Senator Conkling moved that the bill be amended and referred to the court of claims where he thought it properly belonged.

senator Maxey defended the bill and said there was no reason why it should go to the court of claims. After a conderable debate Senator Conkling's amendment, striking out all except the enacting of claims and referring Broden and Augus' claim to the court of claims was adopted and the bill thus amended passed. The Senate then took up and passed the bill authorizing the conversion of gold banks as amended by the Finance Committee. On motion of Senator Johnston the Senate took up and pa sed as amended in the committee the bill authorizing the Secretary of the Treasury to have constructed at Danville, Va., a building for the accommodat on of the United States.

Brutal Murder.

Lucan, Ont., February 4.—About 12 o'clock last night a party of men with blacked and masked faces entered the dwelling of a somewhat notorious Donnelly family and murdered the father, mother, son and a neice. A under the bed and escaped unhurt. The party then set fire to the house, which, together with the bodies of the murdered inmates, was totally consumed. Another son residing about three miles from the homestead, was called to his door about the same hour and shot dead. The whole township is wild with excitement.

Tilden's Marriage

New York Herald, Feb. 3. SCRANTON, Pa., Feb. 3,-It is announced on good authority that the marriage of Samuel J. Tilden, of New York, and Miss Fanny Ranck, of Lewisburg, will take place this week. Miss Ranck is the accomplished sister of J. M. C. Ranck, a prominent member of the Scranton bar. She and Mr. Tilden, it is said, first met at the Centennial Exhibition in Philadeiphia. Miss Ranck is represented as a good looking brunette in the prime of life. The lady's relatives here speak freely of the forth-coming marriage and regard it as a certest Began in Earnest. The contest over the will by which the late Sarah A. Dorsey, of Beauvoir, Miss., left to Mr. Jefferson Davis her entire estate, has begun in earnest, and during the early days of next month the argument in the United States Circuit Court of Louisiana will be heard and a decision asked. Some weeks ago certain relatives of Mrs. Dorsey bled a complaint, complaining that the testatrix did not possess testamentary ca-pacity, and that she was unduly influenced, coupled with an application to set the will aside as being unjust to the next of kin and also as being op-posed to public policy. To this Messrs. Breaux, Fenner and Hull, an eminent New Orleans law firm, as attorneys for Mr. Davis, have filed a demurrer, because the allegations on the complaint "are inconsistent with the claim that the testatrix was of unsound mind or was unduly influenced in making her will, and therefore the complaint does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause for action." The last part of the demurrer is interpreted by the counsel of the next of kin to refer to that part of the complaint which sets forth that it was opposed to public policy and good to admit the will to probate. It will be remembered that Mrs. Dorse, laid particular stress upon the fact that in her judgment Mr. Davis has received in her judgment Mr. Davis has received no reward for fighting for his country—meaning the Confed-rate States—and that, all his patriotic services going without recognition, she de irred him to own and enjoy her rich estate Counsel for complainants will take the ground that Mrs. Dorsey's bequest is a

An astonishing case of solerema, or petrification of the epidermis, comes from Cleveland, Ohio, and is furnish-ing the pious and superstitious of that city with an unending supply of material for warning to those who persist in wicked ways. The case is that of a child born out of wedlock. It is vouched for by prominent physicians, and has been made the subject of a medical cli-nic. The skin of the child began to harden about six months ago, and the petrification has now extended to all parts of the body excepting the lips and eyelids. The flesh is assuming a gray-ish color, and is as cold and hard to the touch as chiseled marble, having none of the warmth and pliability of human flesh. The child sleeps with its eyes open and presents a most ghastly spectacle. The doctors have decided that the disease first made its appearance in one of the connective tissues between the skin and flesh; its origin is a mystery to the medical gentlemen, but they have concluded to suppose, until they discover a better theory, that it is caused by perverted nutrition. The superstitious, however, have no man-ner of doubt that the case is to be accounted for under the Mosaic law which declares that the iniquities of the fathers shall be visited upon the children unto the third and fourth genera-

The Ups and Downs of Speculation ın New York. Philadelphia Times.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.-Everybody is bitten by the speculative fever. Even feminine pulses beat with wild irregularity, and the click of the telegraph bears to hundreds and hundreds of crazy, impecunious females, who huddie about instruments recently placed in leading dry goods stores, intelli-gence of the ups or downs, or goings or comings of this, that or the other stock. Speculation has taken hold of every-body. Gold and Gould are synonymous in the eyes of these blind devotees, who fanatically throw their little all upon this furious tide, trusting that their luck will eatch it at the flood, while the master knows full well that he catches them at the ebb. I doubt if ministers who parade themselves in their professional toggery and stand up on Sun-day morning to drawl out what they are pleased to call the "wad of Gawd" and who treats us to discussions upon the mysteries of the Garden of Elen, the miseries of the Children of Israel and the sins of Jereboam have any adequate conception of their duty, for while all of them avoid these texts that are patent to the most careless secular observer, many of them are found dab-bling in this same dirty pool of speculation, risking their little salaries in the hope of coining more and gleefully rubbing their bands a possible profit of $1,000, while they mentally calculate upon whose friendly shoulders they shall place the burden of a loss. As the parrot remarked to his master after an hour's tussle with the monkey, 'We have had a hell of a time," and as far as I can see it is not frozen over yet by a long shot.

Revival of the hon Trade. The New York Tribune quotes a large Pittsburg iron manufacturer as saying in regard to the iron trade: "The business is in a magnificent condition. Furnace owners who are mining their own ores or have old contracts as $7 or $8 a ton are making a hundred per cent. upon their output. The cost of smelting when bituminous coal or coke is used, does not exceed $14 or $15 per ton, and as the price of pig metal is now from $40 to $45, you will see that the margin of profit is enormous. New contracts for ore average about $12, and men who pay this and also pay the highest price for coke are still getting rich as fast as they ought to desire." He said the general impression is that this flood-tide of prosperity will run throughout the year, whilst some are sanguine of a longer continuance.

Three Hundred Thousand People Starving--Everybody Appealed to for Help-The Poor Irish.

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.- A Herald special from Dublin, gives a tabular statement showing the severity of distress in Ireland, and in the villages, towns and counties. It says that every day reveals new horrors in the catalogue of suffering. The outlook for the coming months is gloomier than any prediction has yet painted. No language can describe the appalling privations and utter destitution which prevail. It is impossible to overdraw the situation so rapidly do matters become worse; what might have been exaggeration yesterday will to-morrow be an underestimate. Three hundred thousand people are slowly starving, and can only be kept alive by superhuman efforts on the part of their fellow-creatures. Some of them are living on one meal a day of turnips or meal; thousands more are consuming their last potatoes. The local efforts are becoming feeble. The people are looking to the world for succor. In an editorial referring to the distress, the same paper says: The Herald, in making this appeal to the benevolent, deems it fitting to set an example which will be taken as proof of its sincerity. The Herald, therefore opens to-day's subscription for the Irish relief, heading it with the sum of $100,000. It solicits other people to give in proportion to their willingness and their means. It will receive subscriptions for any am unt down to 25 cents. carefully publishing the name and residence of every subscriber, and when desired, the place of his former residence in Ireland, that the people relieved may know to whom they are in debted. The News from Greensboro Correspondence of the News.

GRENSBORO, Feb. 3.-For two days much excitement has been rite here by the arrest of one of our highly respectable citizens for house burning, and whose trial has been going on in the court house two days. F. G. Chilcutt had just built him a new house to which to take the object of his love (she had broken an engagement with the accused man, Henry Hines, a week or two ago). Much evidence was produced on both sides, the State being ably represented by Colonels Morehead and Stapies, and the defense by Scott & Caldwell and Colonel J. I. Scales. At 5½ p. m. the case was submitted to the magistrates (3), and at 7 o'clock they rendered their decision, and turned him loose.

Last night as the writer was going home, about 9 o'clock, all at once the dark, cloudy heavens were lit up in the mark. north, as if it were the turning of immense buildings, and as quickly it went out and all was dark again. A rather

For the first time this season, could we credibly call it winter, snow began we crediffy call it winter, show began to fall early yesterday morning and is now three or four inches deep, and yet, to-day is mild, and not likely to pro-duce that much-desired summer article, ice. Sleighing has been fine and the livery men are happy.

During the winter, thus far, two of the leading houses of Greensbero have bought and shipped North, 97,962 rabbit skins, and the season is not half over yet. No wonder Fulghum, of the Patriot, is so often commenting on that branch of trade in our midst. Feddy Moore, one of our county citizens and a worthy man, was suddenly stricken down last week, at 5 p. m. and died at 11 o'clock the same night of a congestive chill. Since my last I have been riding around in adjoining counties, and right here I wish to inquire if the laws of North Carolina do not require the county commissioners to post every public fork or crossing with proper sign boards. How perplexing to a stranger in a strange land to come to where two ways meet and in the distance he spies a sign board, which to his grief, is not an index to him, but reads,—"Hard times killed by trading with W. & H. If there is not a law, I say there should be to this end, and the commissioners should enforce it. It would be a vast benefit to strangers.

King William's Doctor.

London Quarterly Review. On the return of King William from Hodand in 1699, he sent for Radcliffe, and showing his swollen ankles, while the rest of his body was emaciated said: "What-think you of these?" "Why, truly," replied Radchiffe, "I would not have your Majerry's two lega for your three kingdom," which freedom lost him the King's wer, and no intercession could ever recover it. When Anne came to the three the Earl of Godolphin endeavored, in vain, to reinstate Radcliffe as first physician, but the Queen would not be prevailed on, alleging that Radchiffe would send her word, as he had have before, "that her ailments were nothing but the vapors." The Queen, however sent for him in her last illness, with he answered "that he had taken thysic and condinct come." The Queen died on the last of August, 1714, and Radcliffe on the last of November following; his death having, it is said, been hastened by dread of the populace, who were incensed against him for his neglect of the Queen.

PASARA CANAL. M. De Lesseps Pushing Wis Survey -Eleght Weghing Parties. PANAMA, January 23.—The surveys directed by M. d. Lesseps are being rapidly and electently prosecuted. Eight working parties or brigades, as the French term nem, are in the field and hard at we employing in all over one hundred and thirty men. These are distributed along the line of survey. The general headquarters are in Panama, and there the daily reports are sent, arranged, placed in order and field away with their corresponding drawings, ready for use in making a final report. No surveying parties which have ever explored the American Isthmus were so large, well ap-pointed or under such effective and intelligent direction as the present. The general results of the survey are under very competent inspection and scrutiny. Colonel Totton and General W. Wright are the American represen tatives, or what is known as the "Internal Superior Technical (ommission," and, with them are associated Mr. J. Direks, engineer in charge of the Holland Water Works, and the construction of the canal from Amsterdam to the North Sea Mr. Departs which to the North Sea, Mr. Danzats, chief engineer of the Suez Canal, and Mr. Boutan, French mining engineer, in the employ of the French Government. It is not expected that the surveys now in progress will have been completely finished before M. de Lesseps leaves for New York, which it is expected will be by the steamer leaving here on the 6th of February. M. de Lesseps will be accompanied to the United States by his secretaries and his family, but the large corps of engineers at work will remain under the direction probably of Mr. Dircks, and pursue their labors until they are thoroughly com-pleted. M. de Lesseps is extremely desirous of uniting American and French public opinion on the subject of the Panama Capal, and therefore has taken the steps he has so as effectually to si lence if possible, those who assert that he represents a scheme poorly con-ceived and whose difficulties are not haif understood.

HOW THE UTES LIVE.

Josephine Meeker's Observations During Her Capivity Among Them.

The Utes live principally on bread and meat. When they can't get bread they live on meat, and when they can't get meat they live on bread. When they have a great quantity of provis-ions on hand they eat it all up before getting any more. The same is true when they have a small quantity on hand. They are dirty. They are even very dirty. Their meat is generally permitted to lie at a ton the ground of any place. Each Indian family possesses any number of dogs from eight to lifteen, and these animals help them. fifteen, and these animals help them-selves to the meat. After they have satisfied themselves, and when the Indians become hungry, they cut off this same piece on which the dogs feed. They generally boil their meat but sometimes they broil it. They put it in water and let it remain only a few minutes, just long enough to heat, when they take it out and begin to eat. They use the same water and the same paid for boiling over and over again, until the water becomes a perfect slime of fith. One pot generally does service for the entire family. This particular pot is a frying pan. When the Utes get out of bed they wash their faces and bathe the body in it, after which they bake the bread and boil the meat. Then they eat out of the vessel, and then the dog licks up the leavings. They clothe themselves with skins of animals or with blankets. They generally take a blanket or a skin and cut a hole in the middle of it and throw it over their heads, cutting arm-holes and fastening the garment at the waist with a wide beit, while they close up the neck with a bucksin string. When the garment wears out they cut the string and 'et it drop, but not before. Sometimes the Indians will wear as many as five of these garments at a time, always keeping the cleanest one on the outside. Imprisoned by the Ice.

Dubuque Telegraph. Four men and a span of horses went out into the middle of the river this afternoon, for the purpose of cutting ice. After getting out there the ice began to move, and they are now wedged in as tight as bricks in a wall and cannot get back to the shore. They are on the scow in a helpless condition. Efforts have been made all the afternoon to release them, but to no avail. They are in the middle of the river, opposite the old ferry landing on the Illinois shore. Should the weather suddenly turn cold before they are rescued, they may perish, as they are not weil protected.

In a rural district of Forfarshire young ploughman once went courting on a Saturday night. In vain he racked his brain for some interesting topic; he could call up no subject suitable for the occasion-not one sentence could he utter, and for two long hours he sat in silent despair. The girl herself was equally silent; she had no doubt re-membered the teaching of the old Scotch song, "Man maun be the first to speak," and she sat patientry regarding him with demure surprise. At last John suddenly exclaimed, "Jenny, there's a feather on yer apron!" "I wadna feather on yer apron!" "I wadna wondered if there had been twa," re plied Jenny, "for I've been sittin' aside a goose a' nicht."

The Spring Trade.

"Symptoms of the spring trade are muniplying on every hand, but espe-cially throughout the West and Northwest," says the Chicago Inter-Ocean, "seem to require very little aid from the banks, and inquiry among the leading wholesale houses develops the fact that while the country trade has been mate-rially interrupted during the past four weeks by the bad condition of the country roads, interior merchants have met their obligations with unusual prompt ness." THE ORLY WAY TO PET GRANTING The who are pressing forward the movement for General Grant know tall wall that he is not the choice of the people for President. They know full well that he is not the choice of the great majority of the Republican party. Conkling and Cameron both know this. Still, they mean to force him as against any other Republican candidate now in the field. They are determined that it shall be Grant rather than Blatte, or Sherman or Washburn with an e.

One thing, however, these men know very weil, for they are too intelligent not to know it. They know the senti-ment against a third term is so prevalent throughout the United States and so deep rooted and ineradicable as to render it impossible for any candidate to be elected to the Presidency a third

How do they expect to get Grant in? They expect to count him in fraudu-lently, as they did Hayes. There is no other hope for him, in which, as ra-tional and experienced politicians, they can indulge.

In this, however, if they madly try , they will be fearfully disappointed The American people, conscious of their own strength, are patient and long suffering. But they are not a people to endure a second time such a wrong as was perpetrated in lifting the limpid Hayes on the shoulders of Falsehood and Crime into the White House.

Woe unto them who attempt a repetition of this wrong. Between the up-per and the nether millstone would be a soft bed compared to that which they make for themselves.

GOVERNOR SEYMOUR DECLINES AGAIN. Washington Star.

Ex-Gov. Seymour has once more de clared that he will not, under any cir-cumstances, accept the Democratic Presidential nomination. This time, in a conversation with De Witt C. West, he seems to have endeavored to us language that cannot be misinterpreted. In order to show his weak physical condition he said that a brief discussion or conversation with friends on politi-cal topics so affects his nervous system that it destroys his night's rest. Mr. Seymour added that he had just resigned the presidency of an agricu.tural association with the view of relieving himself entirely of all cares and respon-sibilities, so that he can remain quietly at home and take care of his health The fact that Mr. Seymour, on a certain emorable occasion, consented to ac cept a nomination after having declared in very positive terms that he would not, has led the public to suppose that he would do the same thing again. The leaders of his own party have felt this way, and have maintained that Mr. Seymour could be induced to accept the nomination, in spite of his protests that he would not. This last declaration of the ex Governor, however, is apparently meant to be final, and it is evident that he is not willing to risk his

BLAINE OR GRANT?

New York Sun. In public affairs-and we grieve to say it—Mr. Blaine has not kept his hands clean.

He possesses rare elements of popu larity, which, if he had been content to be poor for the sake of being honest, would almost certainly have made him President. But some of his "bar'ls" had to be rolled into his cellar by a back door, in a dark night, for he did not

But when it comes to preparing Blaine with Grant, we can see no respect in which Grant is better than Blaine, while the great, overtowering objection to Grant—that is, the third term—does not lie against Blaine at all. There is not the slightest danger of Blaine ever being elected a third time. Of course we cannot be expected to support Blaine; but if the Republicans are reduced to the dire extremity of choosing between him and Grant, they choosing between him and Grant, they would do far better to choose Blaine. Besides, Blaine, having his pockets al-ready full, might make a comparativehonest administration,

TELEPHONIC IMPROVEMENT.

an Admirable Machine for a Com pleted List of Patrons.

patent lawyer residing in Pitts burg, Pa., has invented and patented a machine called the "Automatic Tele-phone Exchange," which, if it does all its owner claims, the utility and importance of the telephone to the public and private service will be enhanced to the last degree. The telephone system as it now exists compromises a main or central office, from which radiates wires to all the subscribers' offices. When a subscriber wants to talk to another he must be connected through the central office. The automatic telephone Exchange remedies the delays caused thereby by giving the subscribers themselves full and direct control of the central office switch board in such a manner that each can from his office cause the other end of his line at the central office to be placed in con-tact with any other line of the exchange. This is done at once without any delay or the assistance of an operator at the central office. Besides, all communications are strictly private and audible only to the person for whom they are intended, and while two are talking it will be impossible for another to interrupt them in any shape.

A short description of the machine will show its advantages. Attached to the telephone apparatus is a box, on the front of which is a dial, whose face bears all the numbers of the various subscribers arranged in a circle. An index moves over the circle to point to any d sired number. The pin on which the index is fixed moves with it, and turns a toothed wheel inside the box. This wheel opens and closes the circuit at the passage of each tooth, and as there are as many teeth in the wheel as there are numbers on the dial the cir-cuit can be made and broken for every one. At the central office all the various wires converge to a circle, but instead of a mere wire the terminal of each line consists of a light upright brass rod, having a number of teeth projecting toward a common center, each rod having as many teeth as there are lines. A shaft rises vertically in the center, and upon it are a like number of ratchet wheels, to each of which a finger is attached. An escapement is arranged for each ratchet wheel, and is moved by an electro-magnet, con-trolled individually. When contact between two subscribers is made no communication can pass from the fact that the finger being a part of the cir-cuit the current travels to earth through a new channel, but the earth is not cut cut by this action. This is effected, however, by removing a "reversing key," which so operates a "polarized magnet" in the circuit as to at once des-troy the ground connection and give passage to the current over one of the lines at the time in operation. By an ingenious arrangement the rod forming the terminal of any of the lines which is in operation is thrown out of the path of every other line and therefore they cannot be connected by any-one else. Consequently strict secresy is obtained and guaranteed and posi-tive immunity from interruption secured. Another feature is the arrange ment of all the devices independently of each other, so that while two sub-scribers are using the apparatus the others are also able to use without any confusion. The invention, in fact, does away with all waiting in vexatious suspense till the central office gets time to attend to a call.

It was when they were keeping a hotel in New Brunswick that father first thought of buying an interest in a steamboat. He had found a chance to make a favorable purchase for $15,000, but had only $9,000 saved up. He said to his wife that if he had $6,000 more he could make the purchase. She heard the detail of the matter and said: "Well, Vanderbilt, if you want the $6,000 so much I can get it for you. GRANT IN BERLIN.

om a Letter to His Mother. The trip to meet Grant, in the heat and dust, was very fatiguing, and I had considerable fever on the night of his arrival. I sent for the doctor and told him I must keep up during Grant's visit. He gave me a stomach medicine and prescribed hunger. I went with Grant that afternoon to the Crown Prince and had to stand nearly an hour. Next day we dided with the Prince of Postdam, and I took nothing but soup and three stalks of asparagus. On Sat-urday we had the reception for the Grants, on Sunday they dined with us, and on Monday we dined with Bismarck. There I sat between the Princess and her daughter, the Countess Marie, and they were so charming that I forgot all about the doctor's orders and ate of all the courses. Bismarck sat between Mrs. Grant and Marie opposite. The whole thing was delightful. Mrs. Grant said she never bad such a pleasant dinner in her life. Here I must say that we were delighted with Grant and his wife. I put my carriage at their disposal. We were six days together, morning, noon and night, and the more we saw of them the better we liked ther... Grant was very lively and talkative. He left the arrangement of the etiquette entirely. arrangement of the etiquette entirely to me, and everything went off finely there was no mistake. I persuaded him to see Prince Gorvschakoff, which when he left he thanked me very heartily, and Mrs. Grant said: 'We have had no such delightful visit as here, anywhere in Europe.' We were all together at Lord Odo Russel's. Mrs. Grant made a very good impression, both here and at the Crown Prince's dinner. She sat beside him, and he talked a great deal with her. After the dinner at the American Legation Mrs. Grant could scarcely get the General away. He sat in the Legation room smoking and telling stories until near

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 5, 1880 THERE are only 850 townships in North Carolina instead 1,100, as one of our exchanges have stated. WORK on the University Railroad is to begin on Monday next, and it will be vigorously prosecuted. The NEWS was one of its earliest and always most persistent advocates.

THE word "beirs" is no longer necessary in a deed in North Carolina. By two separate acts of the last Legislature every deed is in fee simple unless there are words in it restricting it to convey

THE branch railroads to Oxford and Chapel Hill will be a great benefit and demonstrate that railroads can be built without State taxation. The News would like to see a railroad to Louisburg, to Murfreesboro, to Greenville and various other short lines that can be built if their people are as energetic as those of Oxford.

THE steadily increasing flow of cash into the conscience fund of the Treasury is a really hopeful sign. In view of recent remittances one cant help speculating on the possibility of deep conviction striking into the souls of the thieves who flourished under Grant. In that case, the Washington Post thinks, we might suspend tariff and internal revenue taxes for a few years.

KEELEY and Edison must hurrry up or they will both get left. A native of Poland domiciled in New York, Pietrowski by name, claims to have constructed a machine that furnishes its own motive power, and will run until it is worn out without any outside aid whatever. The most astonishing thing about it is the fact that a number of persons, who have examined the ma- twamps." chine and seen it in operation, believe | public. that it will accomplish all that is claimed for it.

THE Freedmen's Bank investigation, which Senator Bruce's committee has been prosecuting for some time past, is nearly at an end. The startling revelations so confidently promised from time to time are not to be forthcoming. It is a national disgrace that the corrupt managers of this institution have been allowed to escape punishment. Nothing can be done for the further relief of depositors, and the quicker all traces of the institution are removed from the public sight the better it will be for all concerned.

PRELIMINARY arrangements have been made and preparations are under way for a new American Arctic expedition under the direction of Dr. Emil Bessels, late chief of the scientific staff of the Polaris. The expedition, which is to be fitted out by private enterprise, will sail for the north next year via Jones' Sound, where D. Bessels intends to establish a meteorological station, to co-operate with those of the International Congress. At this station a yacht will be kept to maintain communication, while the principal ship of the expedition, a powerful steamer will explore the unknown regions to the northward and westward.

THE bill introduced in Congrest as the extra session providing for the construction of a canal between Lake Michigan and Lake Erie has been reported upon favorably by the committee which has it in charge. The length of the proposed canal is two hundred miles. The route which vessels are now compelled to take in order to pass from one lake to the other, is by the straits of Mackinaw, and its length is about a thousand miles. It is claimed for the proposed canal that it will save eight hundred miles in distance, and that it will lengthen the navigation season at least two months. The prospect that the bill will pass is very promising.

THE question of permitting communicants to dance or not to dance has been agitating the ministers of the Baptist Church of New York. Some thought it encouraged lusts of the flesh while others could see no especial harm in it. One minister took a rather business-like view of the matter. A young lady, he said, dances once or twice, and knowing that she will be hauled over the coals for it, stays away from church and finally joins some denomination which doesn't care particularly about dancing. in this way, he asserted, more than ten thousand people had been driven away from the Baptist churches in New York.

MR. MORTON, United States Consul at Honolulu, in his dispatch to the Department of State, dated November 25, 1879, presents an extended report of the trade of the Sandwich Islands. There has been a marked improvement under the reciprocity treaty with the United States. The influx of Chinese laborers continues, and other immigrants are desired to aid in the development of the sugar, rice and coffee production. About forty-six millions of pounds of sugar were exported last year, an increase of ten million pounds over the preceding year. It goes almost entirely to the refineries of San Francisco. The crops this year are large. The great want of the islands is railroads for the transportation of sugar. The rice raised is mostly for home consumption. Its exportation is decreasing. The coffee crops have been seriously injured of late by a blight. Its production has decreased. Of the two hundred and one vessels entering the port of Honolulu. one hundred and thirty-one bore the United States flag. The public debt of the islands amounts to $402,200, bearing seven, nine and twelve per cent.

THE number of desertions from the British army during the year just ended, although large in comparison with any other European army, shows a very large diminution as compared with 1878. During 1879 the total number of desertions is stated to have been five thousand eight hundred and forty. During 1878, when a war was apprehended with Russia, the total number of desertions advertised was eight thousand three hundred and ninety-nine. In the gigantic armies of France and Germany three hundred desertions in the year is an outside figure. It is not considered creditable that, in an army enlisted by voluntary enrollment, the number of desertions should ex-ceed so vastly the number of conscirpts who shake off the irksome yoke of military service.

A Minority Judge. Louisville Courier-Journal.

In one of the Western States a case was tried, and at its termination the judge charged the jury and they re-tired for consultation. Hour after hour passed and no verdict was brought in. The judge's dinner hour arrived and he became hungry and impatient. Upon inquiry be learned that one obstinate ury man was holding out against eleven. That he could not stand, and he ordered the twelve men to be brought before him. He told them that in his charge to them he had so plainly stated the case and the law that the verdict ought to be unanimous, and the man who permitted his individual epinion to weigh against the judgment of eleven men of wisdom was unfit and disqualified ever again to act in the especity of juryman At the end of this excite i harrague a listle energy voice came from one of little squeaky voice came from one of the jurymen. He said: "Judge, will your honor allow me to say a word? Permission being given, he added:
"May it please your honor, I am the only man on your side."

A recent trip of the steamer City of Chester, of the Inman Line, from New York to Liverpool, was enlivened by the wit of a Washington girl, who was the favorite passenger. In the same steamer was a young English snob, who wore a suit of clothes of very large plaid with a fertigue can to match. who were a suit of cothes of very large plaid, with a fatigue cap to match; a single eyeglass, thick-soled boots, spotted shirt, and loud necktie. I have been to New Yawk. Chicago, Omahaw and other places, and it is a gwate country, but you don't seem to have any gentry in Amewica.' 'What do you call gentry?" asked the lady. "Aw, why, people, you know, who doant have to do anything, you know; people who live without work.' "Oh, yes, we have such people," answered the lady, "but we don't call them gentry." A Blind Man's Appeal.

A blind man was begging for alms at the Church of St. Roch, whining pit-"Have pity upon a poor blind man with two small children dependent up-

"No. sir, no; but you see, whereas in Paris, where everything is so expensive, two children are amply sufficient to move people's hearts; out in the country it takes at least five to knock the grangers. That's why. Have pity upon a poor olind man.'

A Down-town Merchant. Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. Or reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor o Homeopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and suffering crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve

April 1st last, I began the use of CutiCura, which was immediately successful in form, but are now completely healed. I believe myself completely cured. I shall continue the Cuticura Resolvent as directed, for its wonderful action on the

I have done in many cases, to urge the afflicted to use these wonderful remedies.

W. F BARR, M. D.,

I have found no one single remedy to yield such satisfactory results as the "Seven Springs Mass." In the treatment of Dyspepsia, Chronic Diarrhea, Anamia, Chlerosis, and for Chronic Eczema, I find it invaluable, associated with appropriate topical treatment. GEO. T. HARRISON, M. D.

For Dyspepsia, Ulcerations of the Throat, Inflammation of the Neck of the Bladder, Leucorrhœa, etc., the 'Seven Springs Mass' seems to act with almost specific effect.
E. O. GRIGSBY,

We could extend this list into the thousands with such testimonials from physicians from every State in the Union, but these are sufficient to indicate its application. The reputation of the remedy is too widely known to waste words upon its character. In ordering from drug zists always mention Seven Springs Mass.
